

Demand Writing Prompts:

Write a summary of the previous lesson.

Imagine a giant box is delivered to your front door stop with your name on it. What's inside and what happens when you open it?

Write a short story about what it might be like if you woke up one morning with a mermaid tail.

Which is better, winter or summer? Write about the reasons why you think winter or summer is better.

Write about what would it be like if you had an alligator as a pet.

What do you want be when you grow up and why?

Who is your favourite person on the planet? What do you like most about that person?

If you could have any secret super power, what would you want it to be and why?

Write about 3 places you would like to travel someday. What do these three places have in common?

Write about a time you felt really happy. What happened? What made you feel happy?

If you were in charge of the whole world, what would you do to make the world a happier place?

Write a story about what it would be like to climb to the very top of the highest mountain in the world.

If you were in charge of planning the school lunch menu, what foods would you serve each day?

What are some of your favourite animals? What do you like about them?

Imagine that dogs take over the world. What do they make the humans do?

Write a story about flying to outer space and discovering a new planet.

You are a mad scientist and have invented a new vegetable. What is it called? What does it look like? What does it taste like? Most importantly: Is it safe to eat?

You go to school one morning to discover your best friend has been turned into a frog by an evil witch! How do you help your friend?

Describe what it is like when trees lose all of their leaves in the autumn season.

Write about your favourite sport and why you like it so much.

Imagine what it might be like to live on a boat all the time and write about it.

If you had one wish, what would it be?

Write about what you might do if you have the super power to become invisible.

You are walking through the forest when one of the trees starts talking to you. What does it have to say? What do you do?

The weather forecast is calling for a blizzard in the middle of the summer. What do you do?

What kind of types of transportation will people have in the future?

What was one of your favourite toys as a kid? Do you still enjoy playing with it?

What would a day in your life be like if you were a movie star?

Is there a homework subject you dread? Why do you not like getting homework in that subject?

What is your favourite month of the year? Write about why you like it and some of your favourite things to do during that month.

Imagine you are planning a surprise birthday party for your best friend – how do you keep it a surprise?

Pretend you walked outside to find a sleeping dragon in your backyard! Why is there a dragon in your backyard? Is it a friendly dragon? What do you do? Write about it!

You are opening a store! What types of items do you sell? Who are the people who come to shop at your store? Do you like having your own store?

Have you ever watched a movie and didn't like how it ended? Write what you think should happen instead.

In addition to basic survival needs such as food, water, air and shelter, what are 3 things you wouldn't want to live without?

If you could invent a robot of any type who could do anything you imagine, what types of things would you would have the robot to do?

Write a letter to the author of a book you recently read and enjoyed and tell them what you liked most about the book.

6 Word Stories: Author Ernest Hemingway is famous for his 6 word story, "For sale: baby shoes, never worn." Can you write a story in just 6 words?

What is something you learned today?

Would you rather have a goldfish or shark as a pet?

From A-Z: make a list of something for every letter of the alphabet.

Have you ever gone fishing? If you have, did you like it? Why or why not? If you haven't, do you think you might want to?

How do you feel when someone takes something of yours without asking? What is a good way to deal with it when that happens? How can you prevent it from happening?

Write a poem that starts with the word "if".

What are three things you can do that is good for the environment?

If you could meet any famous person today, who would you want to meet and why? What questions might you ask them?

Would you rather live somewhere that is always cold, or somewhere that is always hot? Write about which one you would rather choose.

Have you ever volunteered to help a charity? If so, write about the experience! If not, what are some charities you think you might like to volunteer for?

What does the word courage mean to you?

What makes you unique? What are some things about you that make you an individual?

Have you ever been to a museum? What is your favourite thing to look at on display?

What can you do to set a good example for others to be kind?

Oh no! Everyone around you is sick with a nasty cold! Write a silly poem about how you try to avoid catching their germs!

Personification is when a non-living object takes on human characteristics. Write a story where you personify a common electronic gadget in your house, such as the Television or toaster.

Write a poem using similes, which is when you say an object is like something else. An example of a simile is "Her eyes were as blue as the sky."

Have you ever read a book written by Dr. Seuss? Write your own "Seuss-style" story, complete with rhymes and made up words.

Do you have any siblings? Think about what it might mean to be a good brother or sister and write about it!